Understanding your 'Finished Modules'

A This shows the Academic Year and Level you are studying.

B This shows the Module Code and Module Name.

C This is the name of the assessments which make up the module detailed above.

D This states what attempt you have completed.

E This states the total credit value of the module.

F This shows the overall mark you have achieved for the module. The marks below are what you gained in the individual assessments of the module.

G This shows the the outcome of the module.

H This shows the credits you have gained from the overall mark.

I This shows the weighting of each of the assessments within the module.

J If you have failed or have approved extenuating circumstances, your next attempt will show as re-assessment with a blank mark until your next attempt has been taken and ratified.

For those with approved extenuating circumstances, it shows as re-assessment because you will be attempting the assessment in the re-assessment period. When you take this assessment, your mark will be uncapped (if you have EC'd your 1st attempt).
